OLL ME LXIX., NUMBER 30.

REDWOOD CITY, SAN MATEO COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1928.

ESTABLISHED IN 1859.

IGN TO BE FOUGHT TO LAST MINUTE

The County Republican committee and the presidents of all the clubs of the county met at the court house last Monday and discussed the activities of the campaign. From the reports made by the committee, it was learned that Hoover will be the county nominee at least 5000, reports were very encouraging and inspiring. All the members of the various clubs are working hard, leaving nothing undone to secure a big vote in the county. The Republican nominee. Arguments were made to have the workers at the polls on Monday to bring out all the votes. It is believed that a 93 per cent vote will be secured, the best in the history of this campaign.

The officers of the county committee were re-elected including: Amplett, Secretary; Mrs. W. K. Kneese, Treasurer; D. Kneese, Vice-president; Miller, Secretary; Shortridge, Jr., Horace; Miller, Mr. Miller, Mrs. Hayes; Messup, M. A. Harris, D. J. John, John Brounfeld, Dr. Ray, George Dunn, Attorney Cole and others. All gave glowing reports of the success of the campaign and all predicted the victory of Herbert Hoover.

ford Vote Shows Strong For Hoover

A telephone message from Ed. Caswell, chairman of the Clara County Republican committee, states that a poll of the Stanford University taken yesterday with the aid of Hoover received 1450 and Alfred Smith 300. Mr. Caswell says that Santa Clara will give a majority of 20, Hoover next Tuesday.

Sequoia Team In Game for Championship

In addition to being the traditional "big game" of the year, the encounter between the Palo Alto Gridmen and the Sequoia Cherokees will decide the P. A. L. for the latter. A victory means the championship for the Sequoia, while a loss to the Altans means that the Red and Green will play Burlingame for the championship. The game, scheduled for today, at 3:00 p. m. will be played on the local field, and if the work of the coaches, Ray Dimick and Leonard Casanova, has not gone to naught, a snappy and fast game may be expected. The San Mateo game of last week was an illustration of what a team can be when overconfident, and each of the team members are ready to give their best this week. The game with the Bears should have been won, but for the poor playing of the team, which presented a ragged appearance, and brought a moral victory for San Mateo.

NO CLEW FOUND TO COASTSIDE MYSTERY FINDS

Man Found On Coast Believed Victim of Rum War Activities

Two gruesome finds made on the coastside of the county Sunday have been occupying Coroner J. C. McGovern all week. One of the bodies found is thought to have been a victim of a rum war off the coast of the county. The other is thought possibly to have been a victim of a hit and run driver, who after striking the man hid the body in a dry irrigation canal.

P. P. Chamberlain Critically Ill

P. P. Chamberlain, formerly county treasurer, who has been ill for several weeks, was reported yesterday to be in a critical condition and rapidly sinking. Little hope was expressed yesterday for his recovery. He is being cared for by Dr. J. L. Ross, who is doing all in his power to prolong the life of the aged official.

HOOVER, A MAN FOR THE NATION

THE campaign is coming to a close. On Tuesday the people of the United States will make their decision as to whom they want to preside over the destinies of the country for the four years to come. Whom shall it be, Herbert Hoover of California, or Governor Alfred Smith of New York?

While both men have admirable records and are splendidly equipped for high office, we believe Mr. Hoover to be better fitted by experience, training and special knowledge to exercise the functions of the presidency than Governor Smith.

Herbert Hoover is a man who has served his apprenticeship in public and world affairs. He has the widest national training of any of our candidates, and has had an unparalleled international experience. His life proves his tremendous capacity for the position of the presidency. His work as the greatest adventurer in human welfare in our times shows his efficiency and his great heart. His work in our national government in organizing the Department of Commerce, and raising it from an obscure position in the government to one of the leading departments, his work on the Mississippi flood relief, and other numerous governmental activities shows his ability as an organizer and as a public servant. He has been the friend of the farmer; the greatest exponent of the new era of self-industry; he believes in the principles of the Republican party; he believes in immigration restriction; in a protective tariff, and in the maintenance of high wages. He is the greatest advocate for the elimination of industrial waste which will put American industry in an impregnable position.

When Herbert Hoover is elected President of the United States he will begin his duties with his well known principle that "The primary duty of organized society is to lift the standard of living and enlarge the lives of the people."

Herbert Hoover has great faith in the private initiative of American citizens. He has been an unprecedented organizer of private citizens for public thinking is embodied in his statement: "I am one of those who believe in the sub-stratum of inherent honesty and a fine voice of service and kindness in citizenship."

The eyes of the entire state of California as well as of the nation are on the peninsula, the home section of Herbert Hoover. The people look to this community to give Mr. Hoover an overwhelming vote, one that will manifest its appreciation of the Republican candidate for the presidency. We owe it to him. His heart palpitates with pride of California and particularly his home community. If elected he can and will do much for the state. Home pride should impel all who live in California to vote for Mr. Hoover. This section should be unanimous in its vote for him. Just think of the advertising the peninsula will receive when, as president, he will make his summer home at Stanford, where will come hundreds of employees and thousands of visitors to the summer capital. Unceasing thousands from every land will come to this community, to the new Washington of the West and many will remain to make their homes under the summer skies and enchanting scenery of the peninsula. Voters should give this a thought. Let us help ourselves and our community by casting our ballot on next Tuesday for Mr. Hoover. This is the first opportunity California has had since 1856 to vote for a favorite son for the presidency. The state is safe for Hoover, no one doubts that. This appeal is made to the voters of this section to show their appreciation of the privilege and honor of voting for a neighbor and friend by giving him a large vote. Partisan feeling should be set aside, as far as possible, and a big vote given to Hoover, a man whose record is without a flaw and whose honor is above reproach.

Mr. Smith is a splendid man but his heart is with the "Sidewalks of New York" and not with the Golden Shores of California. He does not know the wants and needs of California as does Herbert Hoover. California will be best benefited by the election of Herbert Hoover. Therefore on the eve of election we earnestly urge all voters of San Mateo county to cast their ballot on Tuesday for Herbert Hoover, our neighbor, our friend and one, if elected, can and will do more for us than any other candidate.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD YESTERDAY FOR MRS. BOLDT

Young Wife Killed In Highway Crash

A day spent in San Francisco buying furnishings for their new home ended tragically for Mr. and Mrs. James Boldt of 1411 Roosevelt avenue Tuesday morning, when Mrs. Boldt was almost instantly killed and five other persons were seriously injured in a head-on collision on the highway near Colma.

Miss Oneto Leads In Contest; Mrs. Tate Is Second

The Times-Gazette's great campaign which has held the center of affairs in Redwood City and vicinity for the last two months has completed its task.

"I know I Should, but..."

Everyone knows he should save money—yet there are thousands of people who never get to it!

Acquiring this vitally important habit of thrift is not a matter of the size of income. It depends solely upon one's ability to make up his mind.

If you are still in the class of those who know they should save money, but NEVER HAVE, step out of it today by opening an interest-bearing account here.

Citizens Discuss Charter Situation

A meeting of the Redwood City Charter League was held last evening at the Central school to discuss the present situation in regard to securing a new charter for Redwood City. At the last meeting a list of citizens to stand for election as freeholders was selected and their nomination papers were circulated and signed by the required number of voters. Due to an error in the arrangements, this list was not filed in the required time.

In the meantime, however, an opposition list was circulated and was filed. This list contains ten names as follows: C. G. Lambert, P. E. Brand, P. E. Long, E. H. Sampson, C. E. Choate, Thomas Tuite, A. S. Ligouri, Miss Nellie Miramontes, W. T. Kellogg and G. W. McNulty.

This list which failed of filing in the required time was as follows: C. M. Dookse, W. G. Frost, Merton Hughes, W. J. Duse, A. J. Stebbins, George Bell, Henry Witte, George McNulty, E. B. Hittman, Charles Hildebrand, Mark Ryan, William Hogan, Piers Coombs, Paul McCarthy, Mrs. A. Kalenborn, H. C. Tuchen, Mrs. Charlotte Chapman, Christian Thoenberg, Louis Sericano.

The meeting called last evening was for the purpose of discussing what further action might be taken. The meeting was confronted with two possible alternatives. The committee might ask for a restraining order from the court to restrain the city government from holding the election, or a manufactory action might be started to force the city council to place the names of the other candidates on the ballot.

At a late hour last evening no decision had been reached as to which of these plans would be employed.

Not win a major prize took their disappointment. All non-winners were game losers but as one candidate said, "We all feel that everything was so fair and square."

The good nature with which the candidates have worked and the amiable relations among them at all times has been especially pleasing to Miss Perry, the campaign manager, who takes this opportunity of thanking all the candidates and those who helped to make this campaign such a decided success.

The statement of the judges is as follows: We, the undersigned judges of the Times-Gazette circulation campaign, hereby certify that we have counted the ballots cast during the campaign and find the following to be winners of the prizes, according to the campaign rules.

The Winners

Miss Alma Oneto of Redwood City is the fortunate winner of the $1185.00 Nash Sedan secured of the Fowler Nash Motor Company; Mrs. A. W. Miss Albertina Shine of Woodside won a $50 merchandise order at Hilton's Jewelry Store, and Miss Myra Kurtz won the $45.00 solid gold watch secured at Hilton's Jewelry Store.

All the others who remained active to the close of the campaign received 10% of what they turned in on subscriptions.

New Perpetual Service Barn

Perpetual service and use, uninterrupted by fires or repairs, is the promise of the masonry arch barn, a new wrinkle in farm buildings developed at Iowa State college by engineers under the direction of J. R. Davidson, head of the agricultural engineering department. The barn is constructed entirely of masonry. Aside from window frames and some equipment inside, there is no combustible material in the building. Outstanding in the construction of the building is the catenary arch used in the roof. The picture shows one of the barns partly completed.

THINGS WORTH RECORDING

In forty-nine years Minnesota has paid out $1,243,165.23 in wolf bounties. There is no tree which serves so many useful purposes as the bamboo. Chinilla rabbits are a comparatively new breed, which first appeared in France.

Tree ferns in China sometimes have fronds eleven feet long. An electro-magnet which belongs to the French Academy of Sciences weighs 120 tons. Beryllium, a metal lighter than aluminum, is much harder, and scratches glass easily.

Golf possibilities—a gopher. Athletic Director Says Radio Lowers Receipts

Radio broadcasting of football games cuts down gate receipts, M. F. Ahearn, director of athletics at the Kansas State Agricultural college, believes.

Ahearn said it was his opinion that broadcasting was largely responsible for small crowds at home games in which the Kansas Aggies' football team played last year. Only 21,217 people paid admission to see the four home games. The Nebraska game drew the largest crowd, 8,140.

"I believe that broadcasting of games has hurt attendance generally," Mr. Ahearn said. "When there was a threat of rain and the possibility of muddy roads, people stayed at home, saved their money and heard the game reports over the radio. If radio reports could be shut off within a radius of 100 miles and then broadcast beyond that, I don't think attendance would be harmed, but, of course, that is impossible."

"We believe that broadcasting is one of the services of our institution, however, and plan to continue with the air reports."

University of Utah Has a Strong Football Team

The University of Utah football team for this fall will be equally as strong as last year, but critics do not believe it can survive the season undefeated. Coach Ike Armstrong has been working hard with the line and hopes to find in his squad men to replace Dykeman, Christensen, Caffey Hardy, Tauffer and others who have been regulars for the last two years.

Ben Lingenfelder, who has assisted Armstrong since he began coaching at Utah three years ago, will be back to take charge of the backfield. Vinal Peterson also is assisting Armstrong. Champion, quarterback on the team for three years, is freshman coach.

Capt. Al Carman will lead the "rimson" over their heavy schedule. He is one of the best tackles developed at Utah. The ends will be well taken care of with Pete Couch and Paul Cecil. In the backfield are Hodgson, Pomroy, Price and others.

Aileen Makes Hit

Miss Aileen Rignin of the New York W. S. A. Olympic fancy diving champion of 1920, who was the idol of aquatic fans throughout her amateur competitive career, appears to have lost none of her great popularity, despite her several years in the professional ranks. Exhibiting in England recently, under the chaperonage of Mrs. W. J. Howcroft, wife of the noted coach, she is reported to have drawn a crowd of 8,000 at an appearance in Torquay.

PENNSYLVANIA TO DRILL RESERVES

Lack of Substitutes Last Year Lost Three Games.

The crying need of armies, teams of all descriptions but more particularly at this time of the year, football, is adequate reserve material. At the University of Pennsylvania the need is urgent judging by the amount of time the coaches are spending drilling the substitutes.

Last year Pennsylvania suffered heavy losses through injury that robbed the team of its mainstays in the heat of the season. Paul Scull, John Shober, Martin Brill, John Uz, Mort Wilner, all regulars were rendered hors de combat during the Penn state contest.

With so many of the best players out of the lineup it is little wonder that the team suffered the slump that caused the loss of three games. When the regulars returned to their positions there was a decided change in the team as Columbia, Harvard and Cornell will testify.

This season the reserve material has come along better than last, the individuals giving every indication of rounding into such form as will relieve the coaches of some of their worry. However, constant drilling in fundamentals with scrimmages as the real test, will keep the substitutes busy from now on.

Lud Wray, the line coach, will have as understudies to the regular tackles, two players who saw action last season. Gene Kuen, who was understudy to John Smith and Bob Schneider, who also saw service in a number of games, should be better than they were last year. Each has had the necessary game experience to make them first rate substitutes.

Bill Williams, star of the freshman eleven's line last season, is making both Kuen and Schneider hustle for the honor of being the first tackle substitute. Others in the running include Barrett, who has been on the injured list for three weeks, Farley and Beaumont.

The guard reserves present a problem. Of the four men only one, Warren, a scrub last season, seems to have the necessary qualifications for big game service. The others are learning fast but still need plenty of work. Charles Urban, the minister, Thwaites and Smalley are waging a keen duel for the honor of being the first substitute after Warren.

Ed Jordan holds the honor of being understudy to Westgate, the regular center. His experience as a freshman last season makes him highly valuable. He has Looly and Lockhart, the former a scrub last year and the latter a freshman guard, to battle for the post.

The end problem continues to be acute. Although Buch and Olexy started in the opening game, neither is certain of keeping their positions. Bill Sullivan and Mory Schallman, both substitutes last season, may yet win regular posts. Both are hard fighting, tearing in ends who can snare passes with the best and either or both may oust those now holding the fort. John Ball, first-string substitute last season is still in the running. Red Welham, a newcomer, who reported three weeks late, has displayed considerable promise.

In the backfield, Coach Bert Bell has Wilner, an experienced quarterback, and Ratowsky, a halfback last season who is also calling numbers. Carroll Rosenbloom, has a slight edge on the other candidates for the first call if anything should happen to the regular backs. Frank Mulligan and Walter Opekun are other excellent prospects. Granville Carrel, substitute last season, and Walter Masters, former freshman star, have a fine chance to oust several of those already named.

Gordon Shows Speed

Brief Advises Players to Get an Education

Bunny Brief, Milwaukee sandlotter completing his nineteenth year of professional baseball, advises the young player to go to college.

"He will get the best out of the game by doing so," says Brief, famous home-run hitter of the Milwaukee American association club.

"He has an opportunity to develop his game as he gets an education—gets expert coaching. If he amounts to anything at all, he has the opportunity of starting his career with a bang by getting a bonus. In the old days there was nothing like that."

Harris Not Strict

Bucky Harris was listed among the "modern" managers who did not require strict training rules from his players, maintaining that as long as they turned up on the field capable of playing their best baseball it was none of his business what they did between times. He did require absolute discipline on the playing field as was demonstrated when he benched the temperamental "Goose" Goslin, his leading hitter, following a disagreement.

SAME PRESCRIPTION HE WROTE IN 1892

When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not as great as today. People lived normal lives, ate plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air. But even that early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings. The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe bowel stimulant. This prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative. It has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds, fevers. At your druggist, or write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. B, Monticello, Illinois, for free trial bottle.

Latest Toad Story

Mrs. Sarah Chaloupka, of Wyoming, Iowa, is telling a toad story. Her toad, a tree toad, she says, croaks though it has been imbedded in the concrete basement wall of her home 11 years. The toad was not heard until a year after the house was built, and is silent in the winter, but through the spring, summer and fall it is noisy. Three years ago, according to Mrs. Chaloupka, the toad was silent and she thought it was dead, but a few days later she heard it again and today it is croaking as merrily as ever.

Town Good Fire Risk

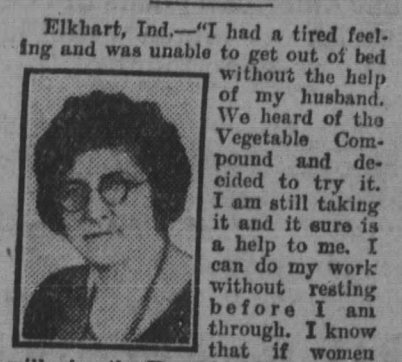

The Arizona town of Chandler, with a population of 1,500 and assessable property in excess of $1,000,000, has a record of two years without a fire. Soon after a quantity of gasoline became ignited in April, 1926, doing damage of $113. The town officials put in a fire siren system of summoning the volunteer fire department. But fortune decreed that the sound of the siren should not disturb the quiet of the town after the siren had been turned on once for a demonstration.

Times-Gazette, Oct. 31, 1903.

Mrs. Nellie Samson went to Santa Clara yesterday to spend a few days with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nystrom of San Francisco were in Redwood City Sunday visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. James Crowe left yesterday for San Gregorio to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Palmer.

It is rumored that the Frank Tanning Co. contemplates enlarging the capacity of its plant. A new beam house is to be built and other buildings erected.

Arthur Schuller of Oakland, an employee of the Southern Pacific Company in their San Francisco offices, spent Saturday and Sunday with his cousin, Hjalmer Holmquist.

The list of eligibles for the Stanford-Berkeley football game which was sent to Berkeley this week contains the name of Bert Shine, Sequoia '02, as one of the possible players.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pitcher, Jr. were in Redwood City this week on business and pleasure. Mr. Pitcher is one of the prosperous farmers of the coastside and has considerable to say in politics in that section.

Miss Augusta Leathers, one of the popular teachers of Redwood City, has been enjoying her vacation with Miss Lizzie Hollinshead of Pescadero.

Pescadero Grange, one of the pioneer orders of that place is a thing of the past, having surrendered its charter.

Members of the Redwood City Merchants' Association met Monday night in the New Canton Cafe for the purpose of electing directors. The directors elected were: Carl Wagner, Carl Stoner, Philip Brand, M. McArthur, C. E. Choate, J. P. Hearne and Joseph Baughn.

To have a representative government every citizen must use his franchise and vote for candidates and measures that he believes are in the best interest of his country.

TRUSTEES ARE NAMED IN SUIT

Members of the board of trustees of the Sequoia Union High School were named in a suit filed Wednesday by E. K. Nelson, building contractor, who asked a writ of mandate to compel the board to show cause why a contract for additions to the school was not let to him instead of to L. Dioguardi. The writ was granted by Judge Buck and the board must show on November 8 why the contract was not let to Nelson.

The contract was awarded to Dioguardi on his bid of $117,000. Nelson's bid was figured at $119,000. According to Nelson, however, the board called for alternative bids which would have made his bid lower than that of Dioguardi. These facts, he claims, were not taken into account in awarding the contract.

WORK TO START ON BAYSHORE HIGHWAY IN EARLY SPRING

A representative of the State Highway Commission was in this city during the week. To a Times-Gazette representative he announced that the commission would in early spring of next year begin work on the Bayshore Highway from San Mateo to Menlo Park.

The road is expected to be completed from San Mateo to Redwood City and Menlo Park by August. All the rights-of-way have been granted from this city to Ravenswood. From there on some difficulty is encountered in securing rights of way owing to the smallness of the holdings in that locality.

This is certainly good news for the people of the peninsula and the southern end of the county, where the large property owners have given rights-of-way to the state for the construction of the highway.

WOODSIDE

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Jackling have postponed the start of their world tour till after Christmas. The delay in the completion of Mr. Jackling's yacht, which is being built in Germany, necessitated the postponement.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Schilling and Mr. and Mrs. Elton Avenall are but awaiting the passing of election day before returning to San Francisco for the winter months.

One of the most enjoyable dances given in Woodside in a long time was the fancy dance party given by the Woodside Fire Department last Saturday night. The costumes were well chosen and the characters well maintained until the time of unmasking. Mothers would not have known their own children in some of the costumes sported on that occasion.

William Harrison, as modern flapper and pendant ear-rings was the most completely disguised but Mr. and Mrs. George Givens followed closely in concealing their identity.

WOODSIDE

The Parent-Teacher Association gave a Halloween party for the children of the vicinity on Wednesday evening. Mr. John D. Short presented the famous film picture, "Grass," as well as some local views. There was community singing, games and refreshments.

The Woodside Girl Scouts will entertain their mothers at a tea on Friday afternoon. Specially invited guests include Mrs. Kalenborn and Mrs. Bogie of Redwood City and Miss Phillipson of Palo Alto.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Woodham have returned from their honeymoon and are at home to their friends at La Honda. Mrs. Woodham was Miss Carol Padua of Oakland. She was a reigning belle of that enterprising city. The romance of the young people began when the pretty bride visited La Honda on a camping trip. It culminated at Reno, Nevada, where they were married last week. Mr. Woodham was formerly the crack football player at Sequoia Union High School from which institution he graduated a few years ago. He is engaged in the merchandising business at La Honda.

Racing Case Dropped In Justice Court

Charges of bookmaking against James Jordan, 32, a San Francisco waiter, were dropped in the court of Justice of the Peace Edward I. McAniff here this week. Jordan was charged with making books in connection with the racing at Tanforan. The charges were dismissed due to conflicting evidence offered by two detectives in the employ of the State Law Enforcement League.

On Friday evening, November 2, at Forster's Hall, the Redwood City Promotion Association is giving a turkey-whist party. Turkey orders and other prizes are to be awarded for the best scores. Everyone is invited to come and see if they can win a turkey.

San Francisco—Western Pacific Railroad will spend $19,500,000 in its peninsula development program.

Merced—Clayton Cotton Co. expects to gin 20,000 bales of cotton at plant here this season.

BANKER IS SPEAKER AT EXCHANGE CLUB

Edward T. Harrison, cashier of the First National Bank, spoke before members of the Redwood City Exchange Club Tuesday evening on the early history of banking in California. Harrison told in an interesting manner how the pioneer banking institutions of the west came into existence and of the practices of the banks in times when the finances of the country were far from being settled. In the early times, he said, before the American occupation, banks were frequently used as a medium of exchange. Later each bank issued its own legal tender. The club celebrated the birthday of Roy Bissell.

The chairman of the meeting was J. W. Locker, also of the First National Bank.

GIRLS TAKE EDGE OVER THE BOYS

(By Capitol News Bureau) SACRAMENTO, Nov. 1 (CNB)—In the perpetual race between beauty and brains, feminine brains seems to be leading today, according to Walter E. Morgan, educational statistician.

"Only 19,393 girls, or 6.81 per cent, had to repeat grades last year," Morgan declared, "while 28,198 boys in the elementary grades were 'repeaters,' or approximately 9.28 per cent. More girls than boys jumped grades during the same period."

The Ladies Circle of the Congregational church will hold a rummage sale in the Poppy Bakery at 1002 Main street on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 8th, 9th, and 10th. Mrs. Amelia Steffens is in charge of the affair.

SAN MATEO BOY DROWNS IN BAY

Donald Johnson, 13, of San Mateo, a former star on the San Mateo High School football team, was drowned Tuesday afternoon, while duck hunting on the bay, off Coyote Point. Johnson was hunting with Earl Miller, also of San Mateo in a small duck boat. The boat was capsized by a high wave and both men were thrown into the water. Miller managed to swim to the shore, but Johnson went under and was drowned before reaching the bank.

FORMER LOCAL WOMAN ROBBED

Miss Mariel Baradat, one of the proprietors of the Golden Blossom, which was formerly operated in this city and of that by the same name now operated by Miss Baradat and her mother at the Sixteen Mile House, near Millbrae, was robbed of slightly over one hundred dollars Monday night. A burglar entered her home, and when she returned held her up and removed the money from her coat.

Club House Offered To Local War Vets

The offer of a building to be used as a club house by the American Legion, United Spanish War Veterans and other veterans' organization was made this week by Hare, Brewer & Clark, Palo Alto realtors. The Palo Alto firm was the purchaser of the Central school property on Broadway from which the school building was removed and upon which the new Sequoia Theatre and other buildings are now being erected. In the rear of the school a building used as a manual training department was built in 1912. Later this was converted into a kindergarten. Hare, Brewer & Clark have offered this building to the veterans provided that they will have it removed from the property, where it now stands. It is planned to ask the assistance of the city council in moving the building and ask to have it placed on Mezes Plaza, a square belonging to the city, and at present no used. A delegation of war veterans will place their plans before the city council at its next meeting, Monday evening.

Child Health Sought By State Program

(By Capitol News Bureau)
(By Capitol News Bureau)
The first item in a child's bill of inalienable right should be good health. Dr. Walter M. Dickie, chief of the state department of public health, declared today. In cooperation with the State Parent-Teachers Association the Health Department will offer the following health program to insure young California his rightful heritage:
1. Well-born, by pre-natal care
2. Hygienic living conditions.
3. Well-fed with proper balanced nourishment.
4. Prompt and efficient medical attention.
5. Physical examinations with preventative care.
Encouragement of the establishment of a health center in every community as a step to insure healthy babies and rugged youngsters is one of the first recommendations of the health officers.

Seeking Light On School Finances

(By Capitol News Bureau)
SACRAMENTO, Nov. 1 (CNB). Newspaper men have become lawmakers for the nonce, a draft of the legislative program of the California Newspaper Publishers' Association being announced today by Carroll H. Smith, state printer and member of the committee. Publicity for school funds, that the voter and taxpayer may know how his money is being expended is the chief objective of the new draft. An annual statement of all school moneys will be required of every school district in the state, the association legislative committee declare, if the bill it has drafted becomes a law. In the interest of public welfare, the publishers demand (1) each district keep its financial files open; (2) accounts be itemized; (3) And except when printed in a pamphlet form, the annual statement shall be published in a newspaper in the district or at least in the county.

Y. M. C. A. Athletes In Football Meet

More than three hundred boys were in attendance at the Third Annual Y. M. C. A. football meet which was held at the U. of C. campus at Berkeley on Saturday. Every Pioneer Club in San Mateo county was represented as well as many of the clubs from San Francisco. San Mateo County Y. M. C. A. Boys again came in for the biggest share of the honors. For the best record in the individual events, Robert Mountain of the Lindbergh Pioneers of Burlingame took first place with George Devlin of the Redwood Roosevelt Pioneer Club and Travis Winsor of the Davy Crockett Pioneers of San Francisco tied for second place. In the club honors the Redwood Roosevelt Pioneers took second place, being nosed out of first place by a very few points by the San Francisco Byrd Pioneers. The boys and leaders enjoyed the U. of C. Olympic Club game as guests of the student body of the university.

County Livestock Escaping Taxes
SACRAMENTO, Nov. 1 (CNB)—San Mateo County California, apparently, it has the goat of the State Board of Equalization, today, with all the San Mateo goats successfully escaping the assessor.

When California goats were found the routes of the San Mateo animals were left out, but raised no such noise as the San Francisco's goat as Telegraph is familiarly known.

These city goats felt so much at being omitted from assessment rolls as of no value that they immediately nosed their way into print with a protest.

San Mateo Toggenbergs are more practically minded, however, and they have cannot pride to save tax money, but for better and classier as a result.

Goats stand together, being tax wall, but they do not alone.

State Board of Equalization, likewise, slighted the San Mateo mules in spite of democratic protests.

Horses are not given mention on the assessment in spite of all the horse staged by the Burlingame.

It will be a surprise, no to some of the horse fanciers of the peninsula district to dis- that the equine flesh they cherished has no value with the fiscal officers.

Goats, also, are given the blank check by the state board, and Mary's favorite pets being of monetary worth be- they resided in San Mateo, their sister lambs over the numbering 2,305,825 have sheep skins valued at $8.00.

State's goat population is valued at $79,233, while the 13 horses are assessed at $41 and mules, even in a million year are thought $148,295.

Local Bank in Folder Tells of Early Barter
Telling the story of the very beginning of money and trade back in prehistoric days, a new folder, "Up from Savagery," has just been issued by the First National Bank of this city. This is the second number in the bank's series dealing with the history of Money and Civilization—and the fascinating story of the development of these two forces along parallel lines gets in full swing in this number.

With a striking picture in colors, representing the first contact between savage tribes for the purpose of bartering goods, the folder brings home vividly the fact that trade has been a great civilizing force in the world. A number of finely executed pen-and-ink sketches depicting trading methods in early days illustrate the inside pages.

Death Rate On Upward Curve
SACRAMENTO, Nov. 1 (CNB)—Automobile has attained the status of a dangerous weapon to with an average daily casualty of 70 persons killed or injured in California.

Louis La Plaze, head of the Department of Public Safety in the Division of Motor Vehicles, declared after compiling statistics of motor accidents for the past nine months. During that period La Plaze found that 19,532 persons have been accidentally killed or injured in motor accidents.

Deaths resulted in 1,366 of these while in 5,158 instances, permanent or permanent injuries sustained in 13,309 only minor hurts were sustained.

Still Draw Crowds
SACRAMENTO, Nov. 1 (CNB)—The California voters still like to see us as well as hear their political speakers!

At the opinion expressed today by Governor C. C. Young on his return from a Hoover campaign trip through the San Joaquin Valley.

Traveling at the large audience attended the political rallies of Hoover and Smith being the air in person nearly every day, Young claimed that the rallies had increased rather than decreased the people's interest in attending.

Found Wonder City

San Francisco.—Three prospectors slipped in off the desert in a battered old auto recently with a story that they had found a buried treasure of gold and silver. It had to do with a buried city under the Colorado river, the story of gold and silver. The prospectors were of no less than 700 men and women who lived to a height of six feet six inches and upward.

This Golconda of modern times remains somewhat of a secret as far as definite location is concerned, but it is partly under the Colorado river at a point along the California-Arizona line, according to the prospectors of its existence. It is reached by a shaft about 28 miles in length, paved with blocks held together by red cement, and lies three miles under the surface—according to the prospectors.

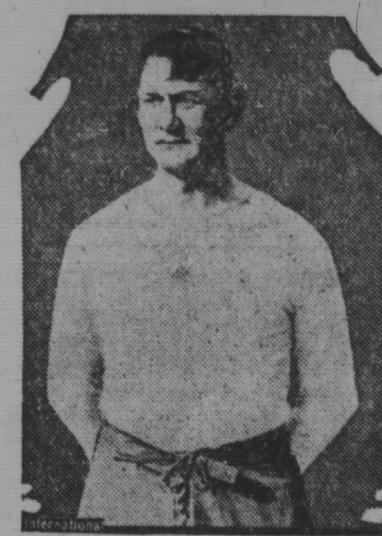

They are C. J. Howard of Houston, Texas; his wife, and Reuben King of Denver and San Antonio.

Howard, acting as spokesman, attempted to persuade Prof. A. L. Kroeber, head of the anthropology department of the University of California, that the university should finance an expedition to unearth all this vast wealth. The scientist informed Howard that the university has no funds for such a purpose. Professor Kroeber, as a matter of fact, was inclined to discount the veracity of the strange things he heard about the underground city of Babylonian elegance, but hastened to add that "nothing is impossible."

"We are only desert rats," explained Howard, "but we know we have located more buried treasure than has ever been uncovered in this country. There will be a lot of soreheads when we find the help we need and prove we have the goods."

"We know we are telling a story hard to believe, but are willing to take anyone with money to the buried city and let him see the treasure with his own eyes.

"About three years and eight months ago we were prospecting for gold along the California-Arizona desert country. One day I was working in a 20-foot shaft when my pick broke through to an abandoned mining shaft. It was paved with square beveled stones matted with red cement. They looked very old. I followed the shaft for 28 miles and came to the buried city."

Howard described in detail how he entered a great circular chamber with a table extending almost entirely across its diameter, at which were seated "the almost nude bodies of 72 persons," six feet six inches or taller, with "blue eyes," which were open, and with "flesh white and firm, having been preserved in an extraordinary manner."

In another room, which Howard opined might have been the harem, were the bodies of 200 women.

The city had trapdoors and all kinds of plain and fancy levers and mechanisms, Howard declared.

He said they cached $18,000 in gold dust which they retrieved, and King went to Cheyenne to try to finance the expedition. By the time the trio went back to the cache the cabin in which it had been secreted had been washed away by the flood of a freshet, he said, thus delaying them in getting their story to the world from which they hope to obtain finances.

Proud of Ownership of Historic Bugle

The most famous bugle in the United States army is said to be found at Fort Myer, Va., just across the Potomac from Washington, the property of Staff Sergeant Frank Witchey, the veteran bugler of the Third cavalry.

Witchey blew taps on the horn at the grave of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington cemetery, and at the funeral of Woodrow Wilson, William Jennings Bryan, Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles and S. B. M. Young and other prominent Americans.

The bugle was issued originally to Witchey by the army as a part of his equipment, but the day after he blew the taps at the grave of the Unknown Soldier he bought the horn back from the quartermaster for $2.50. He had the bugle gold-plated and now he engraves on it all the important events at which it is blown, with the dates.

Elephant or Tractor, Question in Africa

In the Congo river basin of Africa, where the soil is perhaps as rich as anywhere else in the world, there is a merry rivalry between American tractors and elephants as motive power on the farms. The big beast driven by a mahout for a salary of 24 cents a day can turn the sod of one and a quarter acres. Outside of a little salt the elephant can find his own feed. It is not bothered by the tsetse fly, so fatal to other domestic animals.

A tractor is figured to be 14 times more costly to run. But its initial cost is about $400 to the elephant's $2,400, and it can turn the sod of 25 or more acres in a day. So each has its advantages. After nearly 50 years of experience there are available in the region only 24 elephants sufficient to be trained for use on the farms.

Los Angeles Boy Needed Help

Leroy Young, 1116 Georgia St., Los Angeles, is a "regular fellow," active in sports, and at the top in his classes at school. To look at him now, you'd think he never had a day's sickness but his mother says: "When Leroy was just a little fellow, we found his stomach and bowels were weak. He kept suffering from constipation. Nothing he ate agreed with him. He was fretful, feverish and puny."

"When we started giving him California Fig Syrup his condition improved quickly. His constipation and biliousness stopped and he has had no more trouble of that kind. I have since used California Fig Syrup with him for colds and upset spells. He likes it because it tastes so good and I like it because it helps him so wonderfully."

California Fig Syrup has been the trusted standby of mothers for over 50 years. Leading physicians recommend it. It is purely vegetable and works with Nature to regulate, tone and strengthen the stomach and bowels of children so they get full nourishment from their food and waste is eliminated in a normal way.

Four million bottles used a year shows how mothers depend on it. Always look for the word "California" on the carton to be sure of getting the genuine.

Jack, who had just returned from a visit to his indulgent uncle, was sitting disconsolately with his father on the porch.

"What's the matter, son, feeling badly?" asked the father.

"I'm just feeling sorry for you!" replied the calculating youngster.

"What's the matter with your dad?" inquired the puzzled father.

"Well, I'm sorry cause you are not rich like Uncle Jack. He buys ice cream cones every day," was the lad's ineffective answer.

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

They are slipping the hospital gown upon the patient just previous to rolling him up to the operating room to be anesthetized. There is a look of concern on his face as he is presented by the cartoonist. He is worried, not about the operation, but about the seriousness of it.

"Listen, Doc," he says to the surgeon standing over him, "is this operation going to be something worth while to talk about?"

It is a matter of grave concern, this operation business. Surgical operations have grown so common and so simple that there is often little opportunity offered for lurid description and thrilling conversation. Half the pleasure of the experience is taken away when it furnishes nothing worth while to talk about. There was a time when having one's tonsils out was enough to stir the neighborhood to its emotional and conversational depths and when the removal of an appendix was as stimulative of talk as the events connected with a cyclone. Not so in these days. It takes almost complete deletion of one's viscera today to arouse any excited talk. A friend of mine last year lost his appendix, had his stomach patched and a few minor repairs made in his pancreas all at one sitting, and it didn't cause a ripple in the community.

We are not satisfied these days to talk about the ordinary or the commonplace, we demand the unusual and the sensational. An ordinary operation or event or crime does not stimulate thought or interest any more. We insist upon the glaring headlines. Mrs. Graves and Mrs. Simpson were conversing in low tones behind their hands with their eyes turned furtively toward their neighbors. They had something very interesting, very risqué, no doubt, to talk about. There was a scandal in the neighborhood—something unusual had happened, somebody had gone wrong, the irregularity for which they had been looking, or hoping almost, perhaps, had been discovered, and they had something worth while to talk about.

It is a curious characteristic of human beings that we move often than otherwise find pleasure in talking about the abnormal, the disagreeable, the event discreditable to the person concerned.

In one of the high schools of the state, I saw it mentioned lately they are giving to the young women (who need it less than men, I believe) a course in conversation. The young people are taught to find in the commonplace affairs of everyday life matters which lend themselves to being talked about, and they are shown how to work these topics up sufficiently to make them interesting. It is a good idea. We teach young people almost everything these days. Why not give them a little idea of conversation so that it will not be necessary to have an earthquake or a cyclone or an operation for gall stones in the community before they will be able to think up something worth while talking about.

Prefer Sedate Ones

Berlin, Germany.—Matrimonial agencies are finding it easier to arrange a match for a woman between twenty-five and thirty-five than for a girl of twenty. The explanation is that men prefer the more sedate and sensible.

To Follow Old Trail

Kansas City, Mo.—Widespread interest in the covered wagon train which will set out from here next spring for Sacramento, Calif., is being indicated by letters received by the Chamber of Commerce and Capt.

FOR FALL DAYS

Velvets, broadcloths and woolen mixtures are the favored fabrics for fall coats.

Colors are an extremely important item in chic. Light and dark shades of blue and dark browns, beige and black being the most popular at the beginning of the season.

Doris Dawson appears in a very new and charming version of the fall mode in the film, "Heart Trouble." It is of gray broadcloth smartly cut and trimmed with platinum gray fox. A wide suede belt of gray lends an air of youth and dash that is most pleasing.

Charles E. Davis, sponsor of the train, from many parts of the country.

The letters, which contain information relative to covered wagons, ox teams and old trails, come from old "bull whackers" (ox team drivers), historical societies and persons interested in the reproduction of the life of 1840.

The covered wagon caravan is expected to start from the old Westport Landing and travel to Sacramento to take part in the eightieth annual celebration of the gold rush of '49.

Captain Davis' contention that many historical societies do not have sufficient information about the covered wagon days has been proved in part by discovery that the Kansas State Historical society has been unable to assist in giving information about the covered wagon caravans.

One of the letters received was from J. E. Long, sixty-five years old, Claremore, Okla., who said he had not handled a team of oxen for several years, but believes he can hit a fly with a nine-foot whip, such as used by "bull whackers."

Long said plenty of oxen teams could be obtained in southern lumber camps.

Another bit of information received in the letters is that some of the covered wagons were equipped with speedometers.

Some of the wagon wheels, the informant wrote, were as much as eight feet in diameter. The speedometers on the wagon consisted of a stick fastened on a spoke so it would strike a part of the wagon. A member of Clen explains that his invention is lighter, and that it makes a deeper furrow than any plow of foreign make ever used in the Orient. It is far more durable than the old-style Chinese plows, he says. The government, in granting Chen a patent, looks upon the implement as a boon to farmers and has promised him every aid.

Unusual Library

Boston.—What is authoritatively said to be the world's largest collection of unusual little books does not lie under dust-protecting glass, within the depths of some great museum or library. It is gathered in a little house in Brookline.

The collection is the property of James D. Henderson, a Boston real estate dealer, and consists of approximately 700 "volumes," few of which are more than three inches high. Many are small enough to rest comfortably on a two-cent postage stamp. In fact, a dozen among the collection may lay valid claim to ranking among the world's smallest books. Mr.

Henderson demonstrates that 12 volumes may be supported at once in a single table-top.

The books used for this literary feat are a Koran; an English dictionary of 12,000 words; a Galileo book, said to be the smallest in the world with a movable type; a Testament; the Mite, which up to 1890 was rated the world's smallest book; a Robert Burns; a Petit Poucet; the French constitution, in a gold-stamped leather binding; a Gita, written in Sanskrit; a Tusche Kalender; a Tormes Mosche, judged the smallest of Jewish books; and a book of Scottish Irish songs, with the music included.

MENLO PARK

City Council in Regular Session.
The city council met in regular session Tuesday evening, all members being present.

The matter of a new city hall for Menlo Park was discussed at some length. The question was brought up by Blake, who said the city was progressing by leaps and bounds and that some provision should be made for the purchase of property, while it was cheap, upon which to erect a suitable building to house all the activities of the city government. Ellis and Dale and Walker talked in a similar vein. No action was taken but in the meantime real estate men were urged to look for suitable sites and bring them before the council.

A letter was read from C. E. Anthony saying that the matter of improving the railroad property surrounding the depot would be attended to.

On motion of Blake, seconded by Walker, the application of J. Geng for a permit to construct an apartment house comprised of 22 units was denied.

The matter of raising the salary of the city judge from $25 to $50 a month was partly heard at the last meeting, was again brought before the council by Walker, who renewed his motion for the raise. Considerable discussion followed. Dale protested the proposed raise, saying that it would destroy the budget system adopted by the council, and such raises in salary would bankrupt the city. Mayor Weeden asked the city attorney what effect the raise would have on the budget. The attorney replied that the budget was only a guide to the council and that such expenditures were legal. Weeden suggested that the salary of the city attorney be raised $25. On motion the city attorney was authorized to amend the ordinance raising the salary of both the judge and the attorney. Walker wanted the salary of the clerk and treasurer raised but as those are elected offices it could not be done legally.

On motion of Blake, seconded by Walker, the police department was provided with a motor cycle to cost $182.50.

On motion of Blake, seconded by Ellis, a nightwatchman was added to the police force. The new deputy is to patrol the streets from 12 a. m. to 8 a. m. Besides his duties of watching he is to do the street sweeping, the janitor work and the city hall, catch all stray dogs, all for $100 a month.

The council will meet on the afternoon of Tuesday, Nov. 13, to study the report of the planning commission report filed with the council some time ago.

The application of Mr. Enton to enlarge his chicken houses, and the application of F. J. Farnival to alter and repair his building on Oak Grove avenue were referred to the building inspector to grant the permits.

The time of the meeting of the council was amended to meet the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. The regular ordinance was ordered amended to meet the change.

The clerk was instructed, to write Col. Skoggs of the state highway commission to ascertain what he planned to do regarding the widening of the highway through the city.

A Warranite representative addressed the council for permission to act with the street commission in acquainting the residents of the city with the quality of his cement.

M. Blasas, the local poolroom owner, was permitted to use merchandise as prizes in his card game.

Several ordinances had their first reading and will be adopted at the next meeting.

This was the first meeting at which City Attorney Whitmaro attended for several weeks, having been detained at his home with a severe illness. He was heartily greeted as he entered the hall.

The council adjourned to Wednesday evening, Nov. 7th.

Modern Two-Story Building.
It was rumored yesterday that Duff Brothers are to wreck the Little Green Door building on the highway and are to erect instead a modern two-story structure that will be a credit to Menlo Park. Let's hope the rumor, like a dream, will come true.

Hoover Clubs Working Hard.
The Hoover clubs of Menlo Park are working like beavers for the Republican candidate. It is conceded that Hoover will carry the city by a safe majority. A cursory straw vote was taken during the week which showed the following result, Hoover 150, Smith, 100. The members of the club will have machines ready on Tuesday to take voters to the polls. A precinct register will be used to check all voters. Every voter is to be taken to the voting places.

Senator S. M. Shortridge, who has done noble service for the Republican party will be home on Sunday for a breathing spell before taking the stump. He will speak up until the last hour before election day.

To Entertain for Engaged Girl.
Miss Betty Downey, whose engagement to Richard Herold Westphal was recently announced, will be guest of honor at a luncheon to be given November 6 by Miss Gloria Van Bergen. Miss Downey is a daughter of Mrs. Perry Cumberston of Menlo Park, and a grand-daughter of Mrs. William Cluff, residing on Glenwood avenue.

Card Tournament.
The Parent-Teacher Association began a card tournament in the Central school last evening. The tournament will last for four months. The games will be played the first Thursday evenings of each month at 8 o'clock. A cash prize is to be given free each month as well as other valuable prizes. At the close of the tournament a prize will be given the person holding the largest score. Admission 25 cents.

Called To Bedside of Mother.
Mrs. W. L. Bone was called to the bedside of her mother at Newman last week. The elderly lady is quite ill.

Mrs. Boone, the local real estate operator, returned during the week from an extended visit with her son in Georgia.

Well Known in Menlo Park.
Mrs. Louisa Perez Christianson, mother of Mrs. Lucille Whitmaro of Menlo Park, who passed away at her home in Mountain View last week, was well known in this community. She was a sister of the late Mrs. Felix and the late Mrs. Martinez. She was born near the old Santa Clara Mission. Her mother often attended mass at the mission and enjoyed telling her daughter the thrilling times of the mission days, those care-free days of long ago.

Father Bergin Convalescent.
The many friends of Father James Bergin, former assistant pastor of the Church of the Nativity and now located in Oakland, will be pleased to learn that he is recovering from a serious illness. The forefront of the week his sickness greatly alarmed his friends on both sides of the bay. He rallied, however, and is now on the road to recovery.

Planning A Bazaar.
The members of the Presbyterian church are planning a bazaar and play to be held on November 21. The title of the play is "Serving for the Heavens." This will be a side splitting farce that is certain to interest all. A number of ladies of the church will participate in the play.

To Hold Card Party.
St. Joseph Alumni will hold a card party on November 14. One of the prizes is to be a wonder wattle bird weighing fifteen pounds. Come and try for the turkey.

The siren will blow on Tuesday from one o'clock to the close of the polls to remind voters of their duty. When you hear it, put on your bonnet and come to the polls.

The fire whistle will blow every hour from one o'clock to the close of the polls on Tuesday next. This is to remind voters of their duty. Pay attention to it.

Funeral Held for Flu Victim

By D. E. O'Keefe

Rita Claire Sullivan, the devoted young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sullivan of this city, passed away suddenly last Sunday at a Palo Alto hospital. Her death has caused profound sorrow in Menlo Park. She was born in San Francisco twelve years ago, but when two years old came to Menlo Park to reside. She was a pupil of St. Joseph's Parochial school, where she made a record as a student. Rita was looking forward to the day of her graduation next year with the happiest anticipation and with a glow of enthusiasm when she could enter high school.

Her parents and brothers and sisters are almost prostrated with grief, but they may have consolation in knowing that they have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement. They may be further consoled by the thought that as the sun knows no night in this world, so the life of the soul knows no death. When a young and innocent life like that of Rita's is suddenly ended there is still great consolation for those who are left behind, especially parents when they remember that they have given back to God what belongs to Him—that they have given back to Him a blameless and pure soul that was entrusted to them as a precious treasure and sacred charge. The soul of Rita has winged its way back to its Creator from whom it came, clothed in the white robes of innocence and purity that she received in baptism.

Her fond parents may find great consolation in the fact that Rita was faithful to the last degree in all the duties of an affectionate child, claiming during her short life the love of her parents and the respect of her friends and of her school companions.

We need not grieve for the departure of a soul like hers, for we know that she is in the presence of her eternal master, there to await the coming of her loved ones on earth.

Seek to Increase Eating of Sheep

(By Capitol News Bureau)

SACRAMENTO, October 25 — "Mary's little lamb" is in for hard winter with the butcher in the offing, according to plans laid here today by the California Wool Growers Association.

With a million and a half sheep on hoof in the Sacramento Valley, the sheep owners have adopted the slogan, "Eat more mutton for health and prosperity."

Jealous of the epicurian prejudice in favor of beef and pork since it brings a per capita consumption in the United States of 60 pounds each; contrasted with only 5 pounds of lamb, the California Wool Growers have deputized D. W. Hartzell, lamb expert, to teach the Sacramento housewives the "how" of lamb cookery, annual crop production.

And, that the lands adjacent to the junction of Jefferson, Center, Washington, and Webster Streets be kept within a zone that will encourage the erection of office buildings, retail stores, hotels, apartment houses, and similar classes of buildings,

And, also, that values of adjoining properties be not injured for mercantile use,

The undersigned citizen, tax payer and property owner of Redwood City petitions your Board to amend the recent Industrial Zoning Ordinance by a clause to the effect that no steam laundry or similar industry will be granted a location within 375 feet of the Town Hall without the approving vote of every member of the Planning Commissioners and of every member of the Board of Trustees.

The amending of the Zoning Ordinance to that effect would disturb no existing industry within that area and would safeguard the Town Hall and its approaches against possible industries that should be located in other sections of this fast-growing community.

Very truly yours,
R. M. ROBERTSON

The above petition has been sent to the Board of Trustees for consideration.
